ANNOUNCES WITHDRAWAL LAST NIGHT

Woman Nominee for Senate
From Indiana Abandons
The Race.

(BULLETIN.)
[INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE]
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 8.—Mrs. Culla Vayhinger, prohibition candidate for U. S. senator from Indiana, announced last night in Hammond that she had withdrawn her name from the ticket. It was decided today by the state board of election commissioners, Mrs. Vayhinger telegraphed her withdrawal to Secretary of State Ed Jackson, who turned the message over to the commissioners. The election board held the withdrawal should have been effected within three days after the ticket had been filed with the governor, Oct. 1.

Mrs. Culla J. Vayhinger, state president of the W. C. T. U., widely known in prohibition and educational circles, last night in Hammond announced her withdrawal as prohibition candidate for U. S. senator from Indiana. The announcement causes statewide excitement among the distinguished women's friends. As one Hammond lady said last night: "I hope the news isn't true for I did want to vote for her."

NO NEED FOR DRY CANDIDATE.
In withdrawing, Mrs. Vayhinger expressed the belief that there is no need for a prohibition candidate for senator since national prohibition is a reality and both the Republican and Democratic nominees for senator have declared against any weakening of the Volstead prohibition enforcement act. Her withdrawal represents the first big break in the prohibition party forces in the country.

WILL NOT VOTE FOR COX.
Mrs. Vayhinger declined to say whom she will support for United States senator. She likewise would not commit herself as to whether she will vote for Warren G. Harding, prohibition candidate for President, or Warren G. Harding, Republican candidate for President, but she declared that she "will not stand for governor Cox," the Democratic presidential nominee.

PROHIBITION NOW A FACT.
"National prohibition, the big aim of the prohibition party, is now a part of the United States constitution and we have the Volstead act to enforce it," Mrs. Vayhinger, speaking to a newspaper representative, "Senator Watson, who voted in the United States Senate both for national prohibition and the enforcement act, and who is the Republican nominee for re-election, and Mr. Taggart, the Democratic nominee for senator, both have made strong declarations against any change in the Volstead act and I understand too that they favor the proper appropriations to provide for enforcement. For this reason I can not see need for a prohibition candidate for senator and I have sent my notice of withdrawal to the secretary of state."

WILL VOTE FOR KRAUS.
"In my own congressional district, the Eleventh, I intend to vote for the re-election of Milton Kraus, the Republican candidate for representative in Congress. I could not vote two years ago, but I then urged prohibitionists to support him. He had voted for national prohibition and I intend to stand by those who have stood for our cause and given the country national prohibition—a great blessing for humanity."

OTHER DRYS QUIT PARTY.
While Mr. Vayhinger is the first candidate of this year's prohibition ticket to withdraw, Edward Haynes of Kokomo, the prohibition candidate for United States senator four years ago, announced recently through The Star that he intends to vote for Warren G. Harding for President and for Senator Watson's re-election. Mrs. Elie H. Wright of Greensburg, who is on the prohibition ticket as a presidential elector from the fourth district, has made no statement on the presidency but she presided at a Republican meeting at Greensburg last Tuesday night and introduced Warren T. McGray, Republican nominee for Governor, as the speaker of the evening.

The Rev. Charles M. Kraft of Indianapolis, prohibition candidate for Governor of Indiana, received a telegram from Hammond telling of Mrs. Vayhinger's withdrawal from the ticket.

W. C. T. U. CONVENTION SPARKLES WITH INTEREST

W. C. T. U. HEAR CONVENTION ADDRESS

What White Ribboners Propose To Fight For Now, Told By the State President.

That the W. C. T. U. still has a wide field of activity ahead of it and that its cause for existence did not cease with the ratification of the prohibition amendment was forcibly shown yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Culla J. Vayhinger, state president, delivered her annual convention address.

Mrs. Vayhinger has been president of the union for seventeen years and during her administration has seen the realization of many of the ideas first espoused by the mere handful of women who constituted the organization years ago.

EDUCATION THE MEANS.
Education and legislation will be made the means for bringing about other reforms which are contemplated, she said. Now that the women have the vote their power has been greatly enhanced. She called upon the women to stand together and fight the movement now afoot for the return of light wines and beer and she showed that other countries of the world which are also struggling for prohibition have only these to contend with and consider them as great a menace as the distilled spirits.

The speaker dwelt at length upon the World-wide Prohibition convention which was held at Washington and which was the first time the convention has ever been held in a country having a nationwide bone dry law.

CRUSADE FOR WAGE LAW.
In Indiana the White Ribboners are now crusading for a law which will fix a minimum wage and minimum hours for women to work. At the same time they are asking for the appointment of a woman to the State Industrial Board which is possible now with equal suffrage.

"The average moving picture show today is one of the greatest curses we have to contend with," said Mrs. Vayhinger in making her plea for a state board of censorship for movie films. She also called upon the women to watch closely the administration of laws in the courts of their cities. When important cases were before the court in which there was a possibility of miscarriage of justice because of weakened officials, she urged the women to sit in the court room and let the judge and other officials realize that their actions were being checked.

FAVORS LEAGUE OF NATIONS.
Mrs. Vayhinger favors the League of Nations with reservations if necessary for its ratification and scored those who had prevented ratification in the senate.

The Baptist church was packed last night which was Welcome Night at the convention. Hammond certainly made the visitors feel at home. Mrs. Vayhinger presided and introduced the speakers. Music was furnished by the Male Quartet of the First Christian church.

POINTS TO BANKS.
Mayor Brown was the first welcoming speaker. He told many interesting things about Hammond and stated that since July, 1919, Hammond did not have to hold court every day in order to attend to liquor law violations. "If you wish to know what prohibition did for Hammond, go to the banks," he said. "Savings have advanced 100 per cent. Deposits have increased. People dress better and in every way the morale of the country is on a higher plane." He expressed the hope that the convention would return to Hammond at an early date.

ONE STANDARD OF PURITY.
President Jesse Wilson of the Hammond Chamber of Commerce followed the mayor. His remarks were keen and to the point. Outside of the church he said the W. C. T. U. and Boy Scouts were not far behind. He emphasized the high work of the W. C. T. U. and the "one standard of purity for men and women" was one of his greatest declarations. He closed by giving Mrs. Willard's tribute to the flag and gave the organization credit for the country being dry today.

At this point a beautiful bouquet of roses was presented to Mrs. Vayhinger by Mrs. Licklider on behalf of the women of Hammond.

MAJOR BIRD BALDWIN

Under the direction of Harry B. Smith, adjutant-general of Indiana, Major Jay Umpleby, of Gary, is recruiting in Lake County a battalion of engineers for the Indiana national guard. The headquarters will be in Gary. The battalion is to be commanded by Major A. H. Melton, Gary, who served as an engineer in the war. J. T. Schless, a first lieutenant in the war, will command the first company.

Did You Hear That

FROEBEL, Hammond's mortal football enemy, touched by Vayhinger's Vaiparalo High school today.

MR. AND MRS. HARRY COLEMAN in their new car motored from Hammond to Porter says a Chesterton newspaper.

THEY say Doc Shatter built his new garage so small that he can't get his machine into it, but no measurements are reported.

MISS HARTZELL, who taught school in Hammond last year, is now teaching the little brown skins in Hawaii how to shoot.

GEARING, Hammond's High school football star, now playing with Harvard is on his 12th mile trip with the team to play old Harvard.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN W. DYER will change their winter library this year and go to California instead of Florida for an extensive sight seeing trip.

INDIANA chiropractors will hold their state convention at Logansport Nov. 8 and 9 and intend to go after some legislation this coming session.

FURNACE dealers are on the jump night and day. The demand for their services is overwhelming and never, they say, have they had a busier season.

NIGHT Telegrapher Harris, of the Western Union office who has been a fixture here for so many years has resigned and will take a berth elsewhere.

THE golf finals in the Hammond Country Club championship are being played this afternoon. Harry Call of Gary is the only out of town man in the scrap.

HAMMOND Rotary Club members and their wives will enjoy a dinner and theatre party in Chicago on Monday night. They will see "Scrambled Wives" at the Parkway.

THE only political candidate visible in the convention crowds yesterday was H. E. Granger, farmer-labor prospect for prosecuting attorney. He was quiet about it though.

"CERTAINLY I've got my corn in," said Farmer John A. Gavitt this morning. "Michigan corn is cut three weeks earlier than it is here, how how do you account for that?" asks Mr. Gavitt.

WITHOUT doubt the busiest woman in all Hammond this week is Mrs. James R. Graves, who as general chairman of local committees, has had a few less than a million details to look after.

THE drastic increase in railroad fares has put a damper on football fans so that the number which accompanied the Hammond professional team this year will be much smaller than usual.

In order to accommodate the big crowd expected this evening at the Diamond Medal Contest, arrangements have been made for a overflow meeting in the K. of C. Hall opposite the church.

GEORGE BLOCKIE and H. P. Downey have been placed in charge of the collection for the Fall Festival and anyone wishing to talk business will find them at Downey's coal office on Calumet ave.

CURLY ERLINGBAUGH, one of the motorcycle cops, has been busy this week putting up the new parking signs on Hammond streets, so there will no longer be source for argument when cars are halted at the wrong places.

ABSENCE of a cipher yesterday made the fine of Despot Tallypant for making moonshine only $29 when it should have been $200 in the police court story. Despot would have preferred the former but Judge Klotz stood in the way.

"BOY WANTED" notice on a local sign board printed over a "Help Wanted" sign obliterated a part of the latter and makes it read "Hell Boy Wanted." There are one or two lads in town who could fill the bill O. K. if they cared to apply.

CROWN POINT proudly boasts of Mrs. Sarah Dyer, mother of Mrs. D. A. Root, who will be 100 years old if she lives next January and will cast her first vote next month. Mrs. Frances Kilbourne aged 94 will also be one of the Hub's first voters.

"IF I were mayor of this town," writes an anonymous contributor, "automobiles would not be permitted to park in the downtown business district, nor to stop at the curb except to receive or discharge passengers. I would keep them moving."

A BIG parade of W. C. T. U. delegates headed by the police, city officials and state officers of the organization will be staged this evening at 6:45. Delegates are asked to congregate at the church at 6:30. The parade will be over Oakley, State, Holman and Sibley streets.

THE second number of Temulus, the student paper of the Hammond Industrial High School is out and the young journalists who manipulate its destinies have every reason to be proud of its bright contents. A new staff headed by Paul Smith, editor, is in charge.

NOT many know that Ed Rohling, one of Hammond's leading auto dealers, once took a traveling ball team on tour when he lived in Chicago Heights. The team cleaned up everywhere until it got out west and hit the bumpers. Ed had money enough to get back home but some of the players didn't.

MANY SENATORS FIGHTING TO KEEP THEIR SEATS

While the next senate will have many new faces in it, many of the old-timers and present members are fighting to hold their places. This list includes both Democrats and Republicans. Reed Smoot is one of the old-timers. The senator from Utah is one of the leaders in the Republican party in the senate. He has been nominated to succeed himself. Wesley L. Jones of Washington and Selden P. Spencer from Missouri are two other Republicans who seek re-election. Spencer was a member of the committee investigating campaign expenditures. Among the Democratic members nominated for re-election are Marcus A. Smith from Arizona, James D. Phelan from California and John F. Nugent from Idaho. Mr. Smith has been an unwavering supporter of President Wilson. Phelan's opponent is L. E. Shortridge.

LONG SEARCH ENDS IN HAMMOND

Fifty thousand dollars damages for breach of promise are asked in a suit filed this afternoon in the Hammond superior court. The plaintiff is Miss Anna Kuntz and the defendant, John J. McCarthy of Hammond. Miss Kuntz alleges that in the fall of 1916 while she was living at Pittsburgh, Pa., McCarthy, a single man, began paying her attentions. This continued until January, 1917, when through representations of him and promises of marriage he seduced her. Arrangements were made for the wedding to take place Feb. 6, but just prior to that date McCarthy left Pittsburgh, and she was not able to locate him again until a few days ago when she found him in Hammond. The sheriff succeeded in getting service upon him immediately after the filing of the complaint.

A child was born to Miss Kuntz, Sept. 28, 1917, of which she says McCarthy is the father. In her petition she says she has always abided by his promise of marriage and is still willing to marry him. Because of the humiliation and anguish which she has gone through she asks for $50,000 damages. Her attorney is R. H. Sprout.

ALL NEGRO TICKET FOR MARION COUNTY

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 8.—A complete all-negro ticket for Marion county was filed with the county clerk here today in the name of the Independent Republican party. The officers for which candidates are named include state senator and representatives. Backers of the negro party movement assert that it is designed to break away from so-called "gang rule" and is fostered by the "better element" of the large negro population here.

Says Irish Assisted Germany

Lloyd George Makes Sensational Charge in Public Statement

[INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE] CARNATION, Wales, Oct. 8.—The sensational charge that Ireland assisted Germany in her submarine campaign during the world war was made here today by Premier Lloyd George. The astounding statement by the premier was made in a speech on the Irish situation. While attacking the proposal to confer the Dominion rule upon Ireland, the premier said: "I did not tell you during the war, but I know that Ireland assisted the Germans in their submarine campaign."

"In 1917 Ireland was engaged in raising huge forces to starve Great Britain in the back at the time when we were fighting for our very existence," said the premier. "It is lunacy to propose that Ireland shall have her own army and navy and government. We will resist every such attempt. We are going to give Ireland our home rule bill."

Germany's ruthless submarine campaign against allied shipping, but especially against British shipping, centered in Irish waters. During the early days of the U boat warfare, German submarines skirted Ireland. The Irish coast was within sight of the north coast of Ireland, near Queenstown. The Audacious, the great German submarine, was able to attack, was torpedoed in the Irish sea between the east coast of Ireland and Wales.

HOOVER SPEAKS ON POLITICAL RESPONSIBILITY

[INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE] INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 8.—Party responsibility is the major issue of the campaign, and the league of nations, according to Herbert Hoover in a speech before the Columbia club here today. "I am convinced that underneath all this discussion the American people are raising a most fundamental question on our form of government and that is the conduct and responsibility of political parties," said Mr. Hoover. "The democratic party has failed in its responsibilities. The republican party has made definite promises to the country if it be placed in the government. The question at issue, shall the political parties be made to assume responsibility for their actions and promises, both now and in the future?"

"No more dangerous thing can come to us than the failure of our great parties to carry out their promises. It would create a field for a third party. I believe that since the inauguration the present administration has made a failure by all the tests that we can apply."

WOMAN SPEAKER ASSAILS MOSES

Miss Julia Landers Reads His Title Clear in Renaissance Speech

Senator Moses of New Hampshire who spoke in Hammond recently was sharply criticized this week in a speech to women voters at Renaissance delivered by Miss Julia Landers of Indianapolis speaking for the democrats. She read the record of Senator Moses, Republican, of New Hampshire, and asserted that it was he who prevented the Governor of New Hampshire from calling a special session of the legislature to ratify woman suffrage, making that state the thirty-sixth and giving suffrage a majority on the constitutional amendment.

"I am amazed at the appeal of Senator Moses in Indiana to get the vote of the women for Senator Watson," Miss Landers said. "I wonder if the women who are conversant with the history of the suffrage movement will give much attention to the plea of Senator Moses, that they give their votes to Senator Watson at his request. Along with Lodge and Borah and Brandegee and Wadsworth, Senator Moses is well known as a member of the group that tried hard to prevent the women from getting the vote. He says that he expects that Senator Watson will be made chairman of the finance committee in the United States senate, because he will be of great service in influencing legislation—yet this influencing legislation for the upbuilding of American industry."

"We do not doubt his ability to influence legislation, and we have not forgotten the Mulhall affair, but I am wondering whether the women will regard him as much of a recommendation for his election."

GARY MAN LOST IN HAMMOND?

Search has been instituted in Gary, Hammond, East Chicago and other cities in the Calumet region today for Elmer Fry of 26 W. 7th avenue who disappeared from his home early yesterday morning and has not been seen or heard of since.

According to Mrs. Fry in her report to the Gary police last night, he left in his Ford car for Hammond where he had a number of collections to make. When he failed to return late last night she reported his disappearance. Fry is described as being 35 years old, 5 feet 6 inches tall, medium build, dark complexion, smooth shaven and has some freckles on both hands. He wears a dark blue suit, gray cloth hat, tan shoes and white socks.

WAR VETERAN IS KILLED
WARSAW, Ind., Oct. 8.—Simon Eaves, 21, son of Isaac Eaves of Marion, was killed here today when a farm tractor he was operating, overturned upon him. The body will be taken to Gary for burial. Eaves was a world war veteran.

EXTRA

At the end of the sixth inning the score in the baseball championship was 5 to 1 in favor of Cleveland.
